ABOUT

Five internationally renowned artists; Mercedes Azpilicueta, Vivian Caccuri, Kiera Greene, nabtteri and Rebecca Jagoe, will exhibit as part of Site Gallery's Interspecies Entanglements exhibition.

The exhibition looks at relationships between humans and non-humans, at macro and micro scale, reflecting on the environment and ecosystems.

Interspecies Entanglements will bring together artists and artworks that highlight humanity's interdependence upon non-human species, and that have radical approaches to making work in the shadow of looming climate catastrophe and political upheaval.

The exhibition programme comes together as a constellation of performance, workshops, installation and online works.

For the exhibition, Rebecca Jagoe will present a new performance based film that will premiere exclusively online from 15 March. To experience the work please visit Site Gallery's website: sitegallery.org

Angelica Sule, Site Gallery Programme Director says:

"In a time where we are so disconnected from the world that sustains us, these brilliant artists draw attention to the quieter stories of our non-human companions."
